MARKET BREAK DOWN

As one of Bali's most mature property markets, Seminyak's property market remains steady. Available supply makes up 9.1% of the total leasehold market, giving buyers more options than in some neighbouring areas, while prices have edged up 2.6% over the past year, keeping median values 7.3% above the market benchmark.

Sales activity, however, is static when compared to some of the leading markets. Only 22.3% of listings have cleared, closely mirroring the market-wide clearance rate of 24%, with 193 recorded transactions. The real highlight is Seminyak's rental market which continues to outperform, with a 64% occupancy rate, well above the 55% market average. Investors may not be rushing to buy, but for those who already own, the returns remain solid.

The leading theme of Seminyaks market is it's size. Two-thirds of available properties are 3-bedroom or larger, with 37.4% of listings being 3-bedrooms and 29.2% being 4-bedrooms or more. Unlike in some parts of Bali, buyers here are leaning into the trend. 70% of properties sold are 3-bedroom or above, a stark contrast to the Bali-wide average of 53%.

It's not just perception, Seminyak's villas are physically bigger, with the median property 18% larger than the market average. In a market where space is being snapped up, Seminyak continues to prove that there is still healthy demand for larger properties.
