MARKET BREAK DOWN

Bingin is a market on the move, yet still relatively constrained in terms of available stock. It holds the smallest available supply of the top performing markets at just 3.2% of the total leasehold market. Despite this, prices have climbed a strong 4.1% over the past year, with the median price just 1% below the broader market median, showing Bingin's continued appeal.

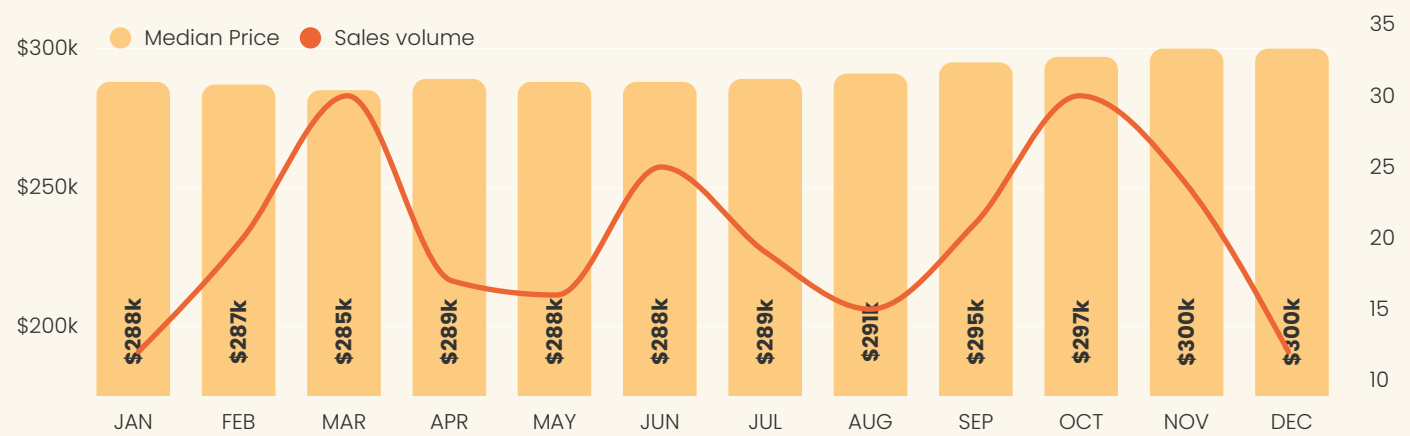

The market is in demand, with a leading clearance rate of 45%, well above the 24% market median. 241 sales suggest that Bingin is a sought after area, but rental performance lags behind its impressive sales results, sitting at just 56% occupancy. For an area showing clear buyer interest, the rental market has yet to fully capitalise on the demand.

PROPERTY SIZE DISTRIBUTION

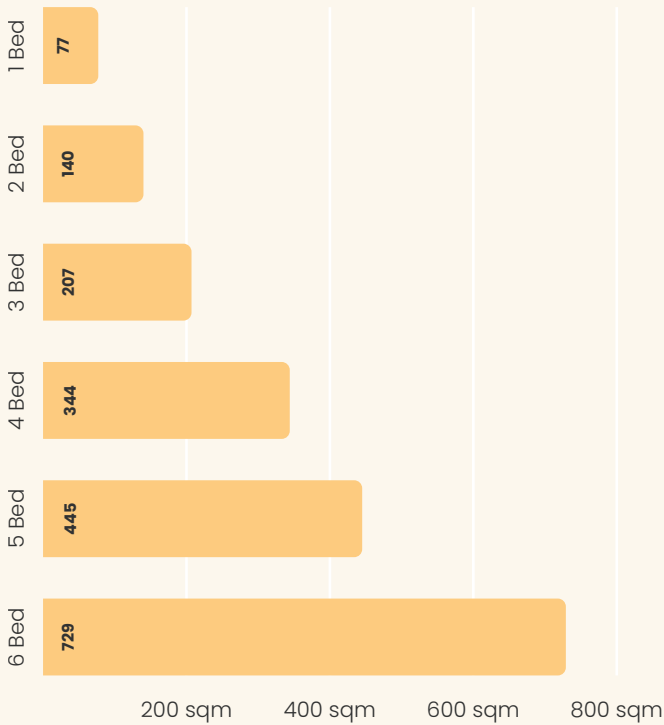

DATA FOR LEASEHOLD VILLAS ONLY

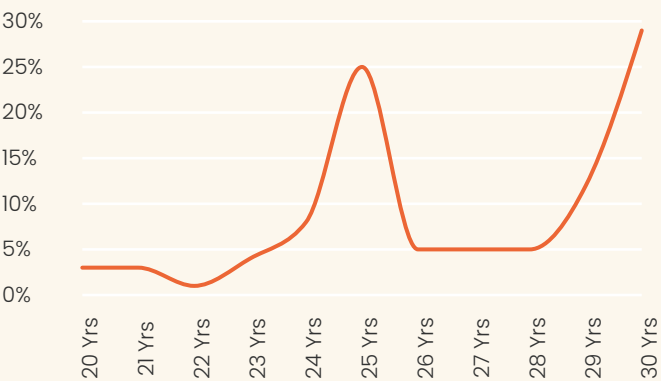

Bingin’s property offerings are dominated by smaller assets. 84% of the supply is concentrated in 1-3 bedroom categories, with 2-bedroom properties leading at 40% of listings. Sales reflect this focus, with 90% of transactions falling within these categories. Interestingly, 1-bedroom properties outperform with a clearance rate of 50%, suggesting strong demand for entry-level options.

This emphasis on smaller properties is also evident in property sizes. The median property size is 22% smaller than the market average, reflecting Bingin’s market as a hub for compact and highly sought after investments. With demand clearly outpacing supply, Bingin’s small-scale market could be a key driver for future growth both in sales and rentals.
