MARKET BREAK DOWN

Kerobokan's property market is a study in contrast, strong price growth but a market that's still lagging in value. Available supply makes up just 4.5% of the total leasehold market, keeping options relatively tight. Prices have climbed 4.7% over the past year, yet median values remain 24% below the market benchmark, making it one of Bali's more affordable options.

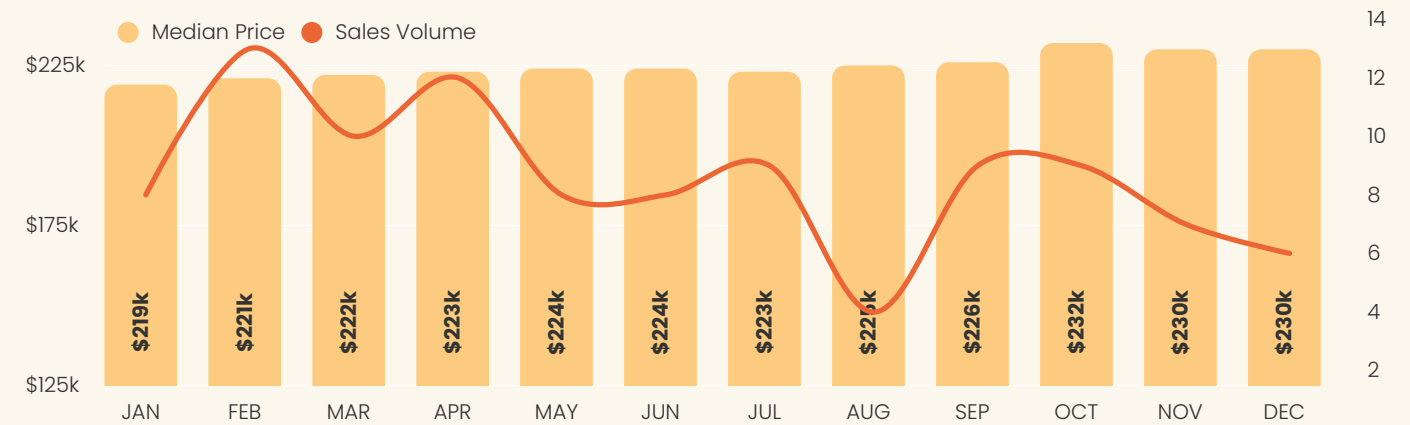

Despite the price gains, transactions remain sluggish. A clearance rate of 22% falls below the 24% market median, with only 103 recorded sales. Meanwhile, rental performance is stable and strong 59% occupancy, just above and over the 55% market average. Kerobokan's fundamentals are shifting, but it's still waiting for demand to catch up.

Kerobokan’s inventory is sharply focused. 81% of available properties fall between 2- and 4- bedrooms, with 2- and 3-bedrooms each making up 30% of supply. Buyers are largely in sync; 3-bedroom properties lead sales at 35% but a surprising player is the 1-bedroom market, where demand has outpaced supply. Despite only making up 4% of listings, 1-bedrooms represent 8.7% of sales, with a remarkable 35% clearance rate.

Pricing trends suggest sellers are aiming high, but buyers are pushing back. Listing prices have risen 2%, yet a steep 19% discount rate signals a clear disconnect between asking prices and actual closing numbers.
