MARKET BREAK DOWN

Ubud sits comfortably within the broader leasehold market, with available supply at 9.2%, but prices have shown little movement over the past year. The median price remains 2.5% below the broader market median, pointing to a slightly more affordable entry point for buyers.

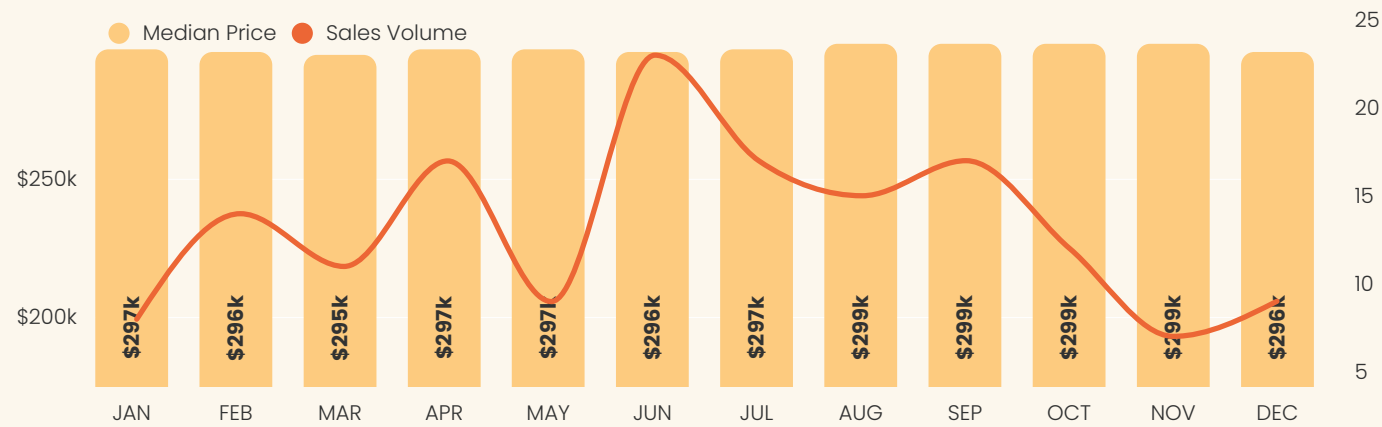

The market is underperforming in some areas, with a clearance rate of just 19%, below the market median of 24%, and 160 sales suggesting a more moderate pace. However, Ubud shines when it comes to rental performance, with 66% occupancy leading the market. This suggests that while the sales side might be sluggish, the area remains highly desirable for long-term renters, reflecting its steady pull as a top destination.

Ubud's property market skews towards mid-range properties. Supply is concentrated in 2- and 3-bedroom options, which make up 43.7% and 25.4% of the market respectively. Sales follow a similar trend, though there's a notable standout with 5-bedroom properties, which represent 7.5% of sales, despite only making up 4.4% of the market. Their 29% clearance rate suggests a niche but active demand for larger assets.

Ubud properties also tend to be on the larger side, with a market difference of 2.7% for the median property size. For 1-4 bedroom properties, the size differential ranges from 6% to 30% above market benchmarks, highlighting that buyers in Ubud get more space for their money.
